

Did you know that the gasoline that arrives at the gas station has a long journey that begins when a company acquires a new exploratory area?

In this first phase, the time to explore the region and make an oil discovery can be up to 7 years. Only after this, the development of the field begins and, around 5 years later or more, the first oil can be produced - which will still be refined before reaching the consumer.

In this game, the idea is for you to make business decisions that can lead you to success. Everything will start with the acquisition of the area where will explore oil and from there will continue with important chooses and actions that you will have to take to develop your exploratory project.

At each stage of the game, you will have to choose between two options for your exploratory project to advance to the next stage. Depending on your choices, you will accumulate points and may win one of the three Chevron gifts below.

Stay tuned and good luck!
